REPORT OF THE AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL ... ..	1

STATEMENT BY THE MINISTER OF AVIATION ON THE TWELFTH REPORT OF THE AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL

1. The Twelfth Report of the Air Transport Advisory Council, covering the period 1st April, 1959 to 31st March, 1960 is presented to Parliament herewith, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (9) of Section 12 of the Civil Aviation Act, 1949.

2. During the past year the Council has carried through with efficiency and despatch an even larger programme of work than in previous years. The main work of the Council has been the consideration of applications to operate scheduled services and inclusive tours. I am glad to say that I have been able to accept all their recommendations.

3. Since the period under review the Civil Aviation (Licensing) Act has been passed. This will lead shortly to the replacement of the Advisory Council by an Air Transport Licensing Board, with executive functions. During the coming months the remaining work of the Council will largely be concerned with transitional measures to enable the new arrangements to come smoothly into force.

4. I should like to record, while their work is still in progress, the Government's gratitude to the Council for the valuable work they have performed. I am particularly glad that the Chairman of the Council, Lord Terrington, has agreed to act for an initial period as the Chairman of the new Air Transport Licensing Board. This will greatly help to ensure a smooth transition to the new system.

REPORT OF THE AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL

(For the period from 1st April, 1959—31st March, 1960)

DUTIES AND COMPOSITION OF THE COUNCIL

The constitution and duties of the Council during the period under review remained as prescribed by Section 12 of the Civil Aviation Act, 1949, and of the Civil Aviation (Air Transport Advisory Council) Order, 1947, copies of which are set out in Appendices "A" and "B" respectively. In considering and making recommendations on applications to operate various types of Scheduled Air Services—a task given to them under Section 12 (3) of the Civil Aviation Act, 1949—the Council were governed by the Terms of Reference which the Minister of Civil Aviation had issued to them on 30th July, 1952. The text of this document is contained in Appendix "C". The Council also had the task of considering and advising on applications to operate Circular Tours under the terms of Section 24 (3) (c) of the Air Corporations Act, 1949. The considerations to be taken into account in this connection are set out in a letter of 5th June, 1958, from the Minister of Transport and Civil Aviation, a copy of which is given in Appendix "D". Article 15 of the Civil Aviation (Air Transport Advisory Council) Order, 1947, precludes the Council from making known their recommendation on any application or representation except to the Minister of Aviation, who in all cases takes the final decision.

2. No change in the membership of the Council occurred during the period covered by this Report but shortly afterwards the Council learnt with deep regret of the death on 10th April, 1960, of their Assessor, Mr. W. W. Burkett, C.B.E. His knowledge and experience had been invaluable to the Council since his appointment on 22nd February, 1949, and his wise counsels will be greatly missed.

CONSIDERATION OF APPLICATIONS TO OPERATE SCHEDULED AIR SERVICES AND CIRCULAR TOURS

3. The Council's main work again lay in considering applications from the two Airways Corporations and from Independent Companies to operate Scheduled Air Services and Circular Tours. A copy of the notice outlining the Council's procedure in dealing with these applications is at Appendix "E". It was the Council's constant endeavour that Independent Companies should be allowed as much scope as possible to develop Scheduled Air Services and Circular Tours within the limits set by the Terms of Reference and by the Minister's letter of 5th June, 1958. The Council were also anxious to ensure that all those affected by an application should feel that they had ample opportunity to explain their views before the Council made their recommendation to the Minister.

4. Although the number of applications again increased considerably, the rate of increase was rather less than in the previous two years. 1,095 applications were received during the year which, with 151 outstanding at 1st April, 1959, made a total of 1,246 to be considered. 91 of these were withdrawn by the applicants and the Council made recommendations to the Minister on 1,034 applications, leaving 121 outstanding at 31st March, 1960. In no case did the Minister find himself unable to accept the Council's recommendation. During the course of the year the Council held 119 meetings.

5. An analysis of the applications received, of the recommendations made by the Council and of the decisions taken by the Minister on those recommendations, together with the applications withdrawn and those awaiting consideration, is contained in Appendix "F". Details of the decisions reached by the Minister on the outstanding recommendations of the Council passed to him before 1st April, 1959, and on the recommendations made between 1st April, 1959, and 31st March, 1960, are set out in Appendices "G" and "H" respectively. These Appendices show that the Minister in accordance with the Council's recommendations approved 484 applications in whole or in part and rejected 518. Of the applications approved, 82 were later withdrawn by the operators concerned, 78 of them relating to Inclusive Tour Services and 4 to Circular Tours.

TRAFFIC DEVELOPMENT

6. The following table sets out the traffic figures of the Airways Corporations and the Independent Companies for the past seven years and gives an indication of the results of the policy of allowing Independent Companies to share in the development of Scheduled Air Services as Associates of one or other of the Airways Corporations. The figures relate to traffic on Scheduled Air Services only and exclude that on Circular Tours:—

Year	B.O.A.C.		B.E.A.		Independent Companies operating Scheduled Services as Associates of B.O.A.C. or B.E.A.
	Passengers Carried	Load Short Ton Miles	Passengers Carried	Load Short Ton Miles	Passengers Carried	Load Short Ton Miles
1953-54...	290,156	136,068,000	1,656,779	53,119,000	252,550	8,100,000
1954-55...	281,373	133,343,000	1,874,316	63,039,000	360,686	12,235,000
1955-56...	371,215	155,758,000	2,224,747	77,903,000	552,326	23,453,000
1956-57...	395,989	175,176,000	2,461,065	88,828,000	725,988	25,181,000
1957-58...	459,144	189,645,000	2,765,591	101,246,000	903,427	32,548,000
1958-59...	470,437	201,500,000	2,828,715	108,598,000	949,892	39,271,000
1959-60...	590,977	245,684,000	3,289,606	127,304,000	1,118,235	44,761,000

N.B.—The figures for 1959-60 are subject to final adjustment.

These figures show that traffic has grown steadily over the period as a whole for all operators, 1959-60 being a year of notable expansion. Although the Independent Companies' traffic on Scheduled Services has increased at a greater rate than that of the Airways Corporations, the Council do not consider that the operations of those companies have to any material extent adversely affected the growth of the traffic of the Corporations.

7. The comparative figures of passenger traffic carried by Independent Companies on all types of Scheduled Services in the last two years were:—

Type of Service	Passengers Carried
	1958-59	1959-60 (provisional)
Normal Scheduled ... ..	229,179	274,799
Colonial Coach and Coach ... ..	17,000	19,130
U.K. Internal ... ..	299,087	366,552
Inclusive Tour ... ..	180,014	166,671
Vehicle Ferry ... ..	224,612	291,083

Traffic increased considerably on all types of services except Inclusive Tours, the sharp fall here being in marked contrast to the developments of the last five years, during which this class of traffic had increased more rapidly than any other. This fall is no doubt attributable to several factors, the more important of which are discussed in paragraphs 15 and 16 of this Report. On both Normal Scheduled Services and Internal Services, traffic more than recovered its 1958-59 drop. The traffic carried by Independent Companies on domestic routes was:—

Internal Services and Vehicle Ferry Services on domestic routes	Passengers Carried
	1958-59	1959-60 (provisional)
Channel Islands routes ... ..	187,788	217,598
Isle of Man routes ... ..	80,158	94,695
Other Internal routes ... ..	31,141	54,268

On Vehicle Ferry Services, the decline in the numbers of bicycles and motor cycles was continued but other loads again increased apace, as shown below:—

Type of Load	Numbers Carried
	1958-59	1959-60 (provisional)
Cars ... ..	65,612	97,455
Motor Cycles ... ..	7,463	6,530
Bicycles ... ..	1,935	1,653
Freight, short tons ... ..	5,850	9,652

GENERAL DEVELOPMENTS

8. Following the reconstruction of the Government after the General Election on 8th October, 1959, the civil aviation responsibilities of the Minister of Transport and Civil Aviation were transferred to the Minister of Aviation as from 21st October, 1959. Having for some time before then recognised that the arrangements which had been established in July, 1952, for controlling the operation of scheduled air services would soon need revision, the Government on 15th February, 1960, introduced in Parliament the Civil Aviation (Licensing) Bill, the objects of which included the creation of a new licensing system for air services and the establishment of an Air Transport Licensing Board in place of the present Air Transport Advisory Council. That Bill having now been enacted, the Council's existence is likely to be terminated during the year following that now under review. Present indications are, however, that the preparations necessary for the new system may well involve the Council in increased activity during the period of transition.

9. Several developments occurred amongst the independent companies during the year. The Airwork Group of Companies further extended their interests by acquiring Bristow Helicopters Ltd. and, in March, 1960, reached agreement with the Hunting-Clan group on the notable course of merging the air transport interests of the two groups into a single organisation to be known as British United Airways Ltd. Agreement was also reached for the Cunard Steam-Ship Co. Ltd. to acquire a major interest in the Eagle Group of Companies. The British Aviation Services Group decided to concentrate all their air operations, except those of Manx Airlines Ltd., in the hands of Silver City Airways Ltd. and, on the Council's recommendation, the appropriate transfer of services was approved. On the other hand, the countervailing trend for more companies to apply to operate scheduled services was continued with the submission of applications by Trans-European Aviation Ltd., Bristow Helicopters Ltd., Falcon Airways Ltd. and North-South Airlines Ltd. None of the applications from those companies was advertised or considered during the year under review, however, because of the need, explained in the Council's last Report, to make preliminary enquiries of the Ministry about an applicant company's operational standing and of the National Joint Council for Civil Air Transport about the company's terms and conditions of employment before proceeding with applications. This increase in the number of companies applying to operate scheduled services was partly offset by Independent Air Travel Ltd.—and its successor in name, Blue Air Ltd.—being compulsorily liquidated and by Luton Airways Ltd. discontinuing their operations.

10. A number of minor changes of name also took place among the independent companies. The operational division of African Air Safaris Ltd. was taken over by a newly-formed company called Air Safaris Ltd.; Continental Air Services Ltd., which had been registered in Jersey, transferred their organisation to a United Kingdom company named Continental Air Transport Ltd. and responsibility for the air transport operations of Rotorports Ltd. was transferred to an associate company, Inter-City Airways Ltd. In these cases also the Council recommended transfers of approved services where appropriate.

NORMAL SCHEDULED SERVICES

11. The majority of the applications recommended for approval during the year were for amendments to services already approved and for renewal of services in cases where the period of approval had expired. The development of services from the Provinces was further encouraged, particularly with the approval of additional services by Derby Aviation Ltd. and by Dan-Air Services Ltd. from the area of Swansea, Cardiff and Bristol to Basle, to Amsterdam and to Deauville. The growing attraction of the Irish Republic as a holiday area was reflected in the approval of two more services from provincial centres to Dublin. In addition to these developments of services from the Provinces, several services were approved to operate from London and nearby airports to continental destinations not previously served by direct air connections. For example, Tradair Ltd. were approved for services to Groningen, to Maastricht and Nuremburg and also to Seville and Agadir, which was later so disastrously wrecked by earthquake ; Eagle Airways Ltd. were approved to serve Brindisi, Silver City Airways Ltd. to operate to Gorizia and British European Airways to Palermo and to Zagreb. In proposing services to these new areas, the operators concerned have shown a realistic appreciation of the requirement that new services should develop genuinely fresh traffic markets rather than compete for traffic which is adequately catered for by established services.

UNITED KINGDOM INTERNAL SERVICES

12. As a counterpart to the services from the Provinces referred to above from South Wales and the West Country, Dan-Air Services Ltd. were approved for a network of Internal Services radiating from Cardiff, Bristol and Plymouth. The provision of supplementary week-end capacity on Channel Islands routes during the peak summer season again engaged the Council, who were greatly assisted by the Channel Islands Air Advisory Council. The 1959 traffic figures and the advance bookings for 1960 showed that the air traffic demand on these routes was recovering well from the temporary setback of 1958 and additional capacity was in consequence approved for operation in 1960. The Council were also called upon to consider proposals for the transfer of services to Bournemouth (Hurn) Airport in the event of Southampton (Eastleigh) being closed, but detailed recommendations in this connection were judged to be premature in view of the fact that the necessary handling facilities at Hurn were unlikely to be available before 1961.

INCLUSIVE TOUR SERVICES

13. The number of applications received during the year again increased, reaching a total of 746. Together with 50 applications for Inclusive Tour Services outstanding at 1st April, 1959, there were 796 in all to be considered, 734 of them for Summer services and 62 for services to be operated during the Winters of 1959-60 and of 1960-61. 69 applications were withdrawn whilst under consideration and the Council dealt with 704, recommending 316 for approval wholly or in part—some of them subject to qualifications—and 388 for rejection. 23 applications were thus left outstanding at 31st March, 1960. Five applications were withdrawn by the companies concerned after the Council had made their recommendations but before the Minister had taken his decisions and two applications had to be rejected only because the foreign airfields were unavailable or inadequate. In accordance with the Council's recommendations the Minister approved 310 applications and rejected 389.

14. After the exhortations expressed by the Council in their last two Reports, and endorsed by the Minister, it was gratifying to note that the number of late applications for Summer Inclusive Tour Services declined. By contrast, it was disappointing that the number of services withdrawn after approval should have been as high as 78.

15. After the comprehensive explanations in their Reports for recent years, the Council feel that their practice in considering Inclusive Tour Service applications and their general views about those services need no further elaboration. A feature peculiar to the year under review which merits special mention, however, is the sharp fall in this type of traffic, as noted in paragraph 7. It would be difficult to believe that, in a year when British air traffic generally showed a marked recovery from the 1958 pause in its expansion, fewer people should have taken inclusive holidays by air. The explanation of this paradox appears to lie largely in the fact that a growing amount of this type of holiday traffic is being carried by other means than Inclusive Tour Services approved under Associate Agreements. There is no doubt that the lower fares becoming increasingly available on Normal Scheduled Services are attracting more Inclusive Tour passengers onto Normal Scheduled Services. That is an understandable development. What is less desirable is the great increase in the number of services purporting to cater for group travel and not for the general public. Services catering for bona fide "closed groups" do not fall under the control of Section 24 of the Air Corporations Act, 1949, but more and more services appear to cater for groups which have little or no purpose apart from the provision of cheap travel and whose membership is not limited so as effectively to prevent people joining merely to secure that particular benefit. The definition in Section 24 is not so clearly drawn as to prevent the exploitation of such devices, which operate to the detriment of genuine "closed group" flights and at the expense of traffic on approved Inclusive Tour Services. The stage now appears to have been reached at which spurious "closed group" operations are undermining the work of the Council and one of the objects of the Civil Aviation (Licensing) Act, 1960, is to bring services of this kind under proper control.

16. In addition to these general factors, there is a more specific one to which may be attributed the actual fall in traffic on Inclusive Tour Services as opposed to the absence of any increase. This arises from the fact, referred to in paragraph 10 of the Council's Report for 1958-59, that in October, 1958, the Minister had to defer consideration of any services applied for by Independent Air Travel Ltd. That company had in 1958 carried a considerable volume of holiday traffic on approved services and, had they been operationally acceptable, would have been similarly approved for 1959. In the event they were not operationally cleared and, although the Council recommended for approval as far as possible requests from the travel agents affected for the transfer of the services concerned to other operators, a number of services were not transferred. Large numbers of holiday passengers were in fact carried by the company—or by its successor, Blue Air Ltd.—but as they were not carried on services approved under Associate Agreements they are not reflected in the traffic figures given in paragraph 7.

CIRCULAR TOURS

17. The Council explained in detail in their last Report the circumstances which gave rise to their being asked to consider and advise on applications to operate Circular Tours. 48 applications were received during the year for operations to be conducted in the Summer of 1960, all of which appeared to be so similar to Inclusive Tours as to require advertisement and consideration in the same context. Four of those applications were withdrawn whilst under consideration and the Council recommended 14 for approval and 30 for rejection. Of 14 applications for Winter Circular Tours, 11 were regarded as providing a special type of tour and were considered by the Council without being advertised.

COLONIAL COACH SERVICES

18. No new services were approved during the year, although modifications of some existing services were approved, including the replacement of Viking aircraft by Viscount aircraft on the Hunting-Clan Air Transport Ltd. service to Gibraltar. A decision on the 27 applications for very low fare Colonial Coach Services which were mentioned in the Council's last Report was overtaken by the arrangements announced by the Minister in the House of Commons on 5th April, 1960, for lower fares on a number of Colonial routes and the sharing of traffic on some of those routes between B.E.A. or B.O.A.C. on the one hand and British United Airways Ltd., Eagle Aviation Ltd. and Skyways Ltd. on the other. In the light of those arrangements, the independent companies concerned withdrew their applications. In deciding to approve these arrangements, the Minister paid full regard to the advice which he had received from the Council, who, having been consulted by him beforehand, agreed with his view that the new arrangements gave substance to their own recommendations. The Council share the Minister's hope that the agreements involved between the Airways Corporations and the independent companies will lead to fruitful co-operation in the future.

ALL FREIGHT SERVICES

19. Seven new All Freight Services were approved on the Council's recommendation, two on domestic routes, four to points in Western Europe and one to the Far East. In addition, Skyways Ltd. were told of the conditions on which their application for a service to Moscow could be approved for introduction at a later date. In July, 1959, the Council recommended approval of the proposed use by Airwork Ltd. of Britannia aircraft on their Trans-Atlantic service, which they were at that time intending to re-introduce as soon as possible.

VEHICLE FERRY SERVICES

20. Two new services to Dublin were approved on the Council's recommendation, one for B.K.S. Air Transport Ltd. from Liverpool which is now in operation and one for Silver City Airways Ltd. from Anglesey which cannot be introduced until military circumstances enable the airfield at Valley or Mona to be made available for civil operations on a reasonably long-term basis. Applications from Air Charter Ltd. and from Silver City Airways Ltd. for networks of services penetrating more deeply into the Continent than their existing cross-Channel services were considered but no decision has yet been reached on those applications. At the Minister's suggestion those two companies have entered into discussions to rationalise their interests in this respect.

REPRESENTATIONS RECEIVED FROM THE PUBLIC

21. During the course of the year, the Council received only one representation from a member of the public, which concerned the adequacy of the Southampton-Jersey service of Airlines (Jersey) Ltd. The main ground of complaint was the company's failure to inform the passenger that the point of departure of a flight had been changed from Southampton (Eastleigh) to Bournemouth (Hurn). The Council considered this representation carefully in the light of the detailed explanations obtained from both parties and reported their conclusions to the Minister, together with a formal recommendation.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

22. The Council have been greatly assisted during the year by the Ministry, who furnished factual information relevant to the applications being considered and who also sent representatives at the Council's request to discuss various problems. The British Independent Air Transport Association, British Overseas Airways Corporation, British European Airways and the National Joint Council for Civil Air Transport also gave the Council considerable help and valuable advice was received from the Channel Islands Air Advisory Council, the Isle of Man Airports Board and a number of Local Authorities. To the members and representatives of all these organisations, and to those of the Independent Companies, Travel Agents and the British Transport Commission, who were present at hearings to explain their views on applications affecting their interests, the Council wish to express their thanks.

On behalf of the Members,

TERRINGTON, Chairman.

6th July, 1960.

Provided that the Council shall not be required by this sub-section to consider any such representation if, in their opinion, it is frivolous or vexatious or if, in their opinion, the matters to which the representation relates have been already sufficiently considered by the Council, or if, in their opinion, it is inexpedient that they should consider the representation on the ground that the matters to which it relates are for the time being regulated by any international agreement to which His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom is a party.

Sub-section (3). It shall be the duty of the Air Transport Advisory Council to consider any question which may be referred to the Council by the Minister, being

(a) a question relating to facilities for transport by air in any part of the world, or relating to the charges for such facilities ; or

The procedure of the Council shall be such as to secure that no member of the Council shall sit to consider any representation or question which it is the duty of the Council to consider, if, in respect of the matters to which the representation or question relates, he has any special interest such as may tend to interfere with his impartial consideration of the representation or question.

Sub-section (7). The Council shall be furnished by the Minister with such accommodation as appears to him to be requisite for the proper discharge of their functions, and with such clerks, officers and staff as appear to him, with the concurrence of the Treasury as to numbers, to be requisite for that purpose, and the Minister shall pay to the clerks, officers and staff of the Council such remuneration as he may with the approval of the Treasury determine.

Sub-section (8). The Minister shall provide the Council with such information and other assistance as he thinks expedient for the purpose of assisting the Council to discharge their functions ; and each of the Airways Corporations shall keep the Council informed of all services which are provided by them or which they intend to provide, and of the charges which the Corporation make or propose to make for any such services.

Sub-section (9). The Council shall make an annual report to the Minister of their proceedings, and the Minister shall lay the report before each House of Parliament together with a statement of any action which has been taken by him in consequence of any recommendations submitted to him by the Council during the period to which the report relates.

Article 9. No member of the Council shall sit to consider a representation or question if, in respect of the matters to which the representation or question relates, he has any special interest such as may tend to interfere with his impartial consideration of the representation or question and any member having such special interest shall notify the Minister and the Council thereof immediately on the representation being made or the question being referred to the Council, as the case may be.

Article 11. In considering any representation or question which it is the Council's duty to consider under sub-sections (2) or (3) of the said section 36 the Council shall give to the applicant, to the Minister and to any other person whom the Council consider to be directly concerned in the representation or question such opportunities of making oral or written statements as the Council think fit.

Article 12.

(1) The Council may, at their discretion, hold inquiries in private or in public.

(2) Before holding a public inquiry the Council shall publish, in such newspapers and journals or by such other means as the Council may think most suitable for informing persons likely to be interested in the inquiry, notice as to the time (which shall not be less than 21 days after the first publication of the notice) the place and the subject matter of the inquiry.

Article 13. The Council may adjourn any inquiry from time to time and from place to place as they think fit and in particular for the purpose of inspecting any place or thing which is connected with the inquiry.

Article 14. The Council may delegate to the chairman and the deputy chairman or either of them the power of giving directions upon any matter arising in connection with the representation or question preliminary to the final consideration thereof by the Council, including directions as to the form and contents of any statements and of any information required by the Council for their consideration of the representation or question.

Article 15. The Council shall not make known their conclusions except in their report on the matter to the Minister.

Article 16. Subject as aforesaid the Council may determine their own procedure.

Article 17. The Council shall make records of their proceedings and shall preserve such records for such period as the Minister may direct.

APPENDIX "C"

CONSIDERATION OF APPLICATIONS FOR SCHEDULED AIR SERVICES

TERMS OF REFERENCE OF THE AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL

It is Government policy to help forward the sound development of civil aviation, to reduce the cost of air transport to the taxpayer and to give greater opportunities to private enterprise to take part in air transport development, without in any way impairing the competitive strength of our international air services. The statutory Air Corporations ("the Corporations") have established an important position in the highly competitive field of international air transport and, by avoiding any measures that would undermine their existing international network, it is the intention that they shall retain that position. The Corporations will accordingly have reserved to them the right to provide both first and second (or tourist) class services, as defined for the purposes of the International Air Transport Association, on their existing International networks. The independent companies and the Corporations will alike be eligible to apply for the right to develop new routes not so reserved to the Corporations and all new types of scheduled services.

On internal services within the United Kingdom, the Government's objective is to reduce and as far as possible eliminate the cost of these services to the taxpayer and to give special consideration to the particular requirements of certain areas. Until the Government have completed their study of the complex problem of giving effect to this policy, British European Airways will continue to provide services on their existing internal network, but independent companies will be able to apply under the new arrangements for long term rights to provide services which do not materially divert traffic from B.E.A.'s internal services. They will not be affected, as before, by B.E.A.'s planned development of routes on which they have not yet operated. No subsidies will be granted to independent companies obtaining rights to operate scheduled services within the sphere of opportunity now presented.

2. The Minister proposes for the time being to implement this policy by an extension of the arrangements under which the Corporations appoint independent operators as Associates under Section 15 (3) of the Air Corporations Act, 1949.

Applications by independent companies for Associate Agreements will, as before, be considered in the first place by the Air Transport Advisory Council, who will make recommendations to the Minister, whose decision will be final.

3. Schedule "A" to this document specifies routes on which, under the Government's new policy, the Corporations will have reserved to them the right to operate normal scheduled services, providing for passengers at first and/or second class (tourist) fares, as defined for the purposes of the International Air Transport Association, mail and supplementary freight (hereinafter referred to as "normal scheduled services"). Schedule "B" specifies the routes on which the Corporations will have the right to operate "all-freight" services.

The Minister will be prepared to consider under these arrangements, proposals for:—

(i) the operation by independent companies on any internal route of services which would not materially divert traffic from either British European Airways on internal services or from independent companies already authorised to operate, under current Associate Agreements.

(ii) The operation by B.E.A. of services on any new internal route, not forming part of their approved network and not approved for an independent company under a current Associate Agreement, provided that such services would not materially divert traffic from independent companies authorised to operate under current Associate Agreements.

(iii) The operation by independent companies, to places outside the British Islands, of "normal scheduled services" on any route which is not specified in Schedule "A" or for which another operator has not already been approved for such services or which is not designed to cater primarily for the same traffic areas as a route so specified or approved.

(iv) The operation by a Corporation to places outside the British Islands of "normal scheduled services" on any new route not forming part of their approved network and for which no independent company has been authorised to provide "normal scheduled services", provided that such a service is not designed to cater primarily for the same traffic areas as a route so authorised.

(v) The operation of a "Colonial Coach" class passenger service by an independent company or by one of the Corporations along any route, whether included in Schedule "A" or not, provided the proposed service is of such a nature as to generate a new class of passenger traffic without material diversion of traffic from the "normal scheduled services" of any other previously approved U.K. operator, and does not involve the right to pick up or set down passenger traffic in territories where relations with the U.K. are governed by bilateral Air Transport Agreements and/or where fares are subject to International Air Transport Association arrangements. For this purpose a Colonial Coach class service will have to be:—

(a) a lower class of service than that of normal scheduled services, e.g. as regards type of aircraft, shorter stage lengths, passenger amenities, baggage allowance etc., and

(b) operated to a stated frequency closely related to the requirements of the new class of traffic in the territories in which rights may be exercised and at a fare not exceeding a fixed sum (without rebates) low enough to ensure dependence on the new class of traffic.

(vi) The operation by a Corporation or by an independent company on any route (including those specified in Schedule "A") of services confined to the carriage of passengers who pay an inclusive charge for air transport and hotel accommodation, other than "night stop" accommodation incidental to a normal scheduled journey (i.e. Inclusive Tour services), provided that such services are not likely materially to divert traffic which would otherwise be carried by any operator already authorised for the route.

(vii) The carriage of freight traffic by a Corporation or by an independent company either as an exclusive load, or as a supplementary load on services authorised under (v), (vi) or (viii), provided the position of any previously authorised operator is not likely to be undermined.

(viii) The operation on any route of vehicle ferry services which may also provide for the carriage of incidental passengers so limited in number as to avoid material diversion of passenger traffic from other authorised services.

(ix) The operation by a Corporation or an independent company on any route of a service from which a Corporation or independent company has withdrawn for other than temporary or seasonal reasons.

(x) The operation by a Corporation or by an independent company on any route of a helicopter service irrespective of the existence of a fixed wing aircraft service.

4. The Minister's approval of an Associate Agreement between an independent operator and one of the Corporations will be subject to his being satisfied that:—

(i) the applicant's equipment, personnel, organisation and operating standards are adequate to meet the requirements of the Civil Aviation Act, 1949, and any orders and regulations made thereunder throughout the period for which the Associate arrangement is approved.

(ii) There is no foreign investment or other foreign interest in the undertaking applying for an Associate Agreement, except with the approval of the Minister.

(iii) (a) The terms and conditions of service of employment of persons employed by the applicant contained in any agreement for the time being in force between the applicant and organisations representative of the persons employed, are not less favourable than those contained in agreements negotiated through the machinery of the National Joint Council for Civil Air Transport for persons employed in comparable work.

(b) Except in so far as the terms and conditions of employment of persons employed by the applicant are in accordance with any such agreement as aforesaid, such terms and conditions are not less favourable than the terms and conditions observed by the Corporations in the case of persons engaged in comparable work.

(iv) On international services, the fares, freight rates and associated commercial regulations will comply with any agreement between the United Kingdom and the other countries served, or, where no such agreement is in force, with the appropriate fares, freight rates and associated commercial regulations prescribed by the International Air Transport Association for services to which the fare and rate-fixing procedures of I.A.T.A. should apply.

(v) The rates for the carriage of mail are comparable with those charged by the Corporations for the carriage of mail on similar services.

(vi) On routes of public importance, the applicant has the necessary financial resources to provide and maintain adequate services of the standard necessary to fulfil his obligations to the public on an enduring basis.

5. As applications are received for the operation of services the Minister wishes the Air Transport Advisory Council, if satisfied that the application, either in the terms submitted or in some modified form, is within the scope of paragraph 3 above, to examine each application and

(i) to consider whether the application fulfils or is likely to fulfil, if approved by the Minister, the conditions outlined in paragraph 4 above, and if so,

(ii) to recommend to the Minister whether he should approve the application in the terms submitted by the applicant or in some modified form, or whether he should refuse it, having regard to :—

(a) the requirements of the public for air transport in the area through which the proposed services would operate ;

(b) the availability of ground and navigational or other facilities and the need for the avoidance of new expenditure on such facilities in connection with the proposal ;

(c) the degree of efficiency, adequacy and regularity of the air services (if any) already provided in the area through which the proposed services are to be operated, whether by the applicant or other operators ;

(d) the period for which any such services have been operated by the applicant or other operator ;

(e) the extent to which it is probable that the applicant will be able to provide a satisfactory service in respect of continuity, safety and regularity of operation, frequency and punctuality, reasonableness of charges and general efficiency, taking into account the manner in which the applicant has performed any services for which he may have been previously authorised ;

(f) the type of aircraft proposed to be used on the services ;

(g) the amount of traffic and gross revenue on which the application is based ;

(h) the suitability of the maximum and minimum fares and rates proposed for the sale of passenger or freight space on the proposed service, having regard to the provision of sub-paragraph (v) of paragraph 3 and sub-paragraph (iv) of paragraph 4 and on internal services to the fares and rates charged by other air operators serving the same area ;

(i) the terms or limitations of any relevant air transport or other relevant agreement for the time being in force between Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and any country outside the U.K. ;

(j) any other matters relevant to the consideration of the application which the Minister may from time to time request the Council to examine.

(iii) To recommend the period for which the Minister's approval of an application should be given, which shall not normally be more than seven years. Where the applicant can satisfy the Council that there are special reasons for a period longer than seven years, any period not exceeding ten years may be recommended.

APPENDIX " D "

CONSIDERATION OF APPLICATIONS TO OPERATE CIRCULAR TOURS

Letter from the Minister of Transport and Civil Aviation to the Chairman of the Air Transport Advisory Council

5th June, 1958.

Dear Lord Terrington,

As you know, Section 24 (3) (c) of the Air Corporations Act, 1959 specifically exempts from the general reservations of air services to the Airways Corporations and their Associates the provision of services whose purpose is "to carry a party of passengers and their baggage (if any) upon a series of three or more journeys organised as a tour for the common enjoyment of those passengers", subject only to my approval of the arrangements as being in the public interest. For convenience, we normally refer to these services as Circular Tours.

Until recently, the number of applications for permission to operate Circular Tour services under Section 24 (3) (c) was so small as to present no real difficulty. I have not, therefore, so far found it necessary to ask your Council to consider and advise me on these applications. I was, as a general rule, able to approve all the applications subject only to the following conditions :—

- (a) the charge to each passenger to be an inclusive charge for air transport and hotel accommodation etc. ;
- (b) all passengers to stay at no fewer than two places on the tour and normally for at least five days at each when only two were visited ;
- (c) only those passengers with their baggage who paid the inclusive charge for the whole tour to be carried on any of the journeys of which the tour was made up ;
- (d) the passengers to embark and travel together as a party and by air transport only on all the journeys making up the tour ;
- (e) no refund of any part of the inclusive charge to be made to any passenger not completing the tour.

In recent months, however, I have received a large number of applications for approval of Circular Tour services. Almost all these applications have been connected with the provision of what the travel agents described as "two centre holidays", i.e. holidays providing for a stay of approximately a week in each of two overseas holiday centres. Both in the choice of centres and in the type of holiday, the Circular Tours proposed have tended to become more and more like the Inclusive Tour holidays operated under Associate Arrangements with the Corporations. In some cases, indeed, the application for the Circular Tour appears to have been made to take the place of an unsuccessful application for an Inclusive Tour. There was, therefore, a risk that, in approving Circular Tours, I might be undermining the work done by the Council in advising on the appropriate capacity to be allowed for Inclusive Tour services to the main European holiday centres. It is, in any case, clearly undesirable that airline companies should apply through two separate channels for permission to operate services which are intended to serve virtually the same kind of holiday traffic, or for similar applications to be dealt with under quite different procedures. I have, therefore, decided to ask your Council to advise me henceforth on all applications made under Section 24 (3) (c) for approval of Circular Tours.

Before any Circular Tour can be operated under Section 24 (3) (c), I must approve the arrangements "as being in the public interest". In effect, therefore, I am asking the Council to advise me whether the Circular Tours applied for can be regarded as in the public interest. As, however, this is such a general criterion, the Council may wish to have some guidance on how they should interpret it. In the first place, I have no wish to impose unnecessary restrictions on applications for Circular Tours which are clearly designed to provide the public with a different type of holiday from that available by travelling on Normal Scheduled or Inclusive Tour services and I should, therefore, expect you to deal liberally with such applications, subject only to conditions similar to those already applied (see paragraph 2 above).

The remaining applications, however, are likely to fall in the category of those which provide a similar type of holiday to the Inclusive Tour. I should expect the Council to deal with these Section 24 (3) (c) applications in a way that will avoid conflict with their recommendations on applications for Inclusive Tours to the same areas. If, therefore, the Council find it necessary, in order to avoid material diversion of traffic from the existing Normal Scheduled services on the route, to recommend limitations to the total tour capacity provided to a particular point, then their recommendations should be related to the combined capacity of both Inclusive and Circular Tours; how the total capacity should be divided between Inclusive and Circular Tours I should like the Council to advise on in the light of the probable public demand for the different types of tour. The Council will probably find it convenient in dealing with these Circular Tour applications to follow the same procedure, including publication and consideration of representations and objections, as they already employ in dealing with applications for Inclusive Tour services. Approvals will, of course, be subject to the standard conditions (see paragraph 2 above).

It has not, up to the present, been my practice to prescribe the fares and charges to be made for Circular Tour holidays. As, however, many of them are tending to become similar to Inclusive Tour holidays, for which the charge must, to comply with I.A.T.A. regulations, be not less than the appropriate return fare from the United Kingdom to the holiday centre, I think it would be desirable to attach to my approval of Circular Tour services in future the condition that the total charge should not be less than the minimum prescribed under I.A.T.A. Resolutions for a normal Inclusive Tour to any of the destinations involved.

AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL

PROCEDURE TO BE FOLLOWED BY THE AIR TRANSPORT ADVISORY COUNCIL
WHEN CONSIDERING APPLICATIONS TO OPERATE SCHEDULED AIR SERVICES

(Notice originally issued by the Council on 31st July, 1952)

The Air Transport Advisory Council give notice that, in accordance with the general arrangements announced in Parliament on 27th May, 1952, concerning the development of air transport, the Minister of Civil Aviation has now issued to them Terms of Reference and that they are, therefore, ready to receive applications from the Airways Corporations and British air transport companies to operate scheduled services and inclusive tours. The Council will consider all applications in accordance with the Terms of Reference and will make recommendations to the Minister, whose decisions will be final.

2. Applications must be made on a standard form, copies of which can be obtained from the Secretary at 3, Dean's Yard, London, S.W.1. Applications should be made as soon as possible and in no case less than three months before the proposed starting date of an internal service or less than four months before the proposed starting date of an international service. Exceptionally, however, the Council will at their discretion accept, not less than 21 days before the proposed starting date of the service, applications for short-term services, not exceeding a period of 14 days operation wholly within the United Kingdom.

3. The Council will as soon as possible after receipt publish in "The Times", "The Aeroplane" and "Flight" the main particulars of all applications which appear to them to be eligible for consideration under their Terms of Reference, except of those relating to such short-term services referred to in paragraph 2 above, as do not appear to affect the interests of other operators. Further details of applications, except for such information as is allowed to be given by the applicants in confidence, may be obtained from the Secretary of the Council. Persons having an interest in an application may submit in writing to the Council within 14 days from the date of advertisements any representations or objections which they desire to make. Such representations or objections must include a statement of reasons. The Council will, as appropriate, notify the applicant of any objections or representations.

4. Should the Council decide that an enquiry is desirable, at which the applicant and interested parties may appear to state their cases, they will hold one, either in public or in private according to the particular circumstances. If the enquiry is to be held in private, they will give not less than 7 days' notice to the applicant and to such other persons as the Council consider have indicated a valid interest in the application. If it is to be held in public, not less than 21 days' notice will be given by public advertisement in "The Times", "The Aeroplane" and "Flight".

5. The Council will decide in private upon their recommendations to the Minister, who will convey his decision on the Council's recommendations to the applicant and to any persons who have made representations or objections on the application. The Council cannot undertake that their recommendations will be made within any stated period but every endeavour will be made to deal with applications as speedily as possible.

NOTE :—The procedure outlined in paragraph 3 of the above Notice has since been modified in certain respects :—

- (i) The Council do not now advertise or consider applications until the Ministry of Transport and Civil Aviation have assured them about the applicant company's operational standing and until they are satisfied after consultation with the National Joint Council for Civil Air Transport that the company's terms and conditions of employment conform to the requirements of paragraph 4 (iii) of the Council's Terms of Reference.
- (ii) Applications for inclusive tour services are now advertised in "The Times" only and not in "The Aeroplane" and "Flight". The period for submission of representations or objections about applications for inclusive tour services has been reduced from 14 days to 7 days from the date of advertisement.
- (iii) In considering applications to operate circular tours in accordance with the letter of 5th June, 1958, from the Minister of Transport and Civil Aviation, the Council in general adopt the same procedure as in the case of applications for inclusive tour services, but applications considered by them to fall within the terms of paragraph 4 of that letter are not advertised.

SCHEDULED AIR SERVICES AND CIRCULAR TOURS

ANALYSIS OF APPLICATIONS RECEIVED AND RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY THE COUNCIL TO THE MINISTER BETWEEN 1ST APRIL, 1959, AND 31ST MARCH, 1960, AND OF THE DECISIONS TAKEN BY THE MINISTER ON THOSE RECOMMENDATIONS

APPLICATIONS RECEIVED BY THE COUNCIL

During the year the Council received 1,095 new applications. 1,062 of these were from independent companies and 33 from the British Overseas Airways Corporation and British European Airways. 958 of the applications were for new services or for renewed approval of existing services and 137 for amendments to services already authorised. The following table shows the number of applications for each type of service:—

Type of Service	For New or Renewed Services	For Amendments to Existing or Approved Services
Normal Scheduled ...	132	40
Colonial Coach or Coach ...	2	10
U.K. Internal ...	38	23
Inclusive Tour ...	689	57
All Freight ...	12	3
Vehicle Ferry ...	17	4
Helicopter ...	6	—
Circular Tour ...	62	—

151 applications received before 1st April, 1959, were either under consideration or awaiting consideration at that date, so that the total number of applications for consideration in 1959–60 was 1,246. This total does not include the very large number of applications for minor amendments which the Council considered it unnecessary to advertise nor the applications for new and revised fares on U.K. Internal Services with which the Council also dealt.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY THE COUNCIL TO THE MINISTER

2. 91 applications were withdrawn whilst still under consideration by the Council. The Council made recommendations to the Minister during the year on 1,034 applications, of which 1,007 were from independent companies and 27 were from B.O.A.C. and B.E.A. 503 of these applications were recommended for approval in whole or in part and 531 were recommended for rejection. 113 applications were either under consideration or awaiting consideration by the Council at 31st March, 1960, and 8 more were in suspense. The Council will refer in their next Report to the applications still under consideration at 31st March, 1960.

DECISIONS TAKEN BY THE MINISTER ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COUNCIL

3. Of the 1,034 recommendations made by the Council during the year ended 31st March, 1960, together with 16 recommendations on which decisions by the Minister were outstanding at 1st April, 1959, the Minister had up to the time of submission of this Report given decisions on 997 recommendations. 32 applications were withdrawn by the applicants after the Council had made their recommendations but before the Minister had given his decisions. Thus final decisions on 21 recommendations were outstanding at the date of submission of this Report. Appendix "G" gives details of decisions taken by the Minister on the outstanding recommendations passed to him by the Council before 1st April, 1959, and Appendix "H" gives details of decisions taken by him on recommendations made between 1st April, 1959, and 31st March, 1960. These Appendices show that the Minister approved 484 applications in whole or in part and rejected 513; the details were as follows:—

Type of Service	New or Renewed Services Approved	Approved Amendments of Existing or Previously Authorised Services	Applications Rejected	Applications on which decisions outstanding
Normal Scheduled	35	38	66	—
Colonial Coach or Coach ...	1	3	1	4
U.K. Internal ...	33	19	13	—
Inclusive Tour ...	266	44	402	—
All Freight ...	7	2	3	2
Vehicle Ferry ...	1	3	—	10
Helicopter ...	1	—	—	—
Circular Tour ...	31	—	33	—

Of the 484 applications approved, 460 were from independent companies, 361 of them being for new or renewed services and 99 for amendments to existing services. The remaining 24 applications approved were from the two Airways Corporations, 14 of them being for new or renewed services and 10 for amendments to existing services. 511 of the rejected applications were from independent companies and two from British European Airways.

[Note:—In an analysis of this type the distinction between new services and amendments to existing services is inevitably somewhat arbitrary, as some applications for new services differ only slightly from applications previously approved or are for renewal of services for which the period of approval has expired.]
